Webinars Presents:

Two Weeks Later: COVID-19 Update for the CHD Patient

Wednesday, April 1, 2020, 7:00 – 8:00 p.m. EDT

Presenters: Abigail Khan, MD, and Adrienne Kovacs, PhD

About the Webinar
How does COVID-19 impact the adult congenital heart disease (ACHD) patient? This webinar will provide a brief overview of the virus. The focus will be on providing new and updated information. For example, what exactly is social distancing? How do I know when I need to contact my doctor’s office? What is telehealth like? We will also discuss ideas to help people coping during this difficult time. If you still have questions and concerns, you will want to attend this webinar.

About the Presenters
Dr. Abigail Khan is an adult congenital heart disease specialist at the Knight Cardiovascular Institute at Oregon Health & Science University. She is also the Associate Chief of Clinical Cardiology. Dr. Khan has a strong interest in improving access to care for all adults with congenital heart disease, and is actively involved in administrative and research efforts around this topic.

Dr. Adrienne Kovacs is a psychologist with the Knight Cardiovascular Institute at Oregon Health & Science University. For more than 15 years, Dr. Kovacs’ clinical work and research has focused on psychosocial outcomes in congenital heart disease. Dr. Kovacs is a member of the ACHA Medical Advisory Board and is President-Elect of the International Society of Adult Congenital Heart Disease.

About the Adult Congenital Heart Association
The Adult Congenital Heart Association (ACHA) is a national not-for-profit organization dedicated to improving the quality of life and extending the lives of adults with congenital heart disease (CHD). ACHA serves and supports the more than one million adults with CHD, their families and the medical community—working with them to address the unmet needs of the long-term survivors of congenital heart defects through education, outreach, advocacy, and promotion of ACHD research. For more information about ACHA, contact (888) 921-ACHA or visit www.achaheart.org.
